FOREWORD

Annual Abstract of Meghalaya, 1978 is an attempt to place the statistical data pertaining to the Meghalaya since inception upto 1978. Where possible attempt was made to present the data district-wise and/or Subdivision-wise. Special interest for subsequent periods such as the 1970s has also been presented in the Appendix.

Data presented in the Abstract were drawn from various sources. Wherever possible these were indicated at the end of the Abstract. The co-operation extended by various State and Government offices, Semi-Government and Public bodies in providing the data for the Abstract is greatly appreciated.

In this attempt, the draw-backs of this publication are recognized. It is our aim to improve this publication in future. We welcome any criticism, comment and suggestion in this regard.

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that this is crucial for the company's financial health and for providing reliable information to stakeholders.

2. The second part of the document outlines the specific procedures for recording transactions. It details the steps from identifying a transaction to entering it into the accounting system, ensuring that all necessary information is captured and verified.

3. The third part of the document addresses the role of the accounting department in monitoring and controlling the company's resources. It describes how the department uses the recorded data to analyze performance, identify trends, and make informed decisions about resource allocation.

4. The fourth part of the document discusses the importance of internal controls in preventing errors and fraud. It highlights the need for a strong control environment, including segregation of duties, authorization requirements, and regular audits.

5. The fifth part of the document concludes by summarizing the key points and emphasizing the ongoing nature of the accounting process. It stresses that accurate record-keeping is not a one-time task but a continuous effort that is essential for the company's long-term success.
