PREFACE

The Fourth Economic Census was launched in Meghalaya during April-May, 1998 in collaboration with the Central Statistical Organisation, Ministry of Statistics & Programme Implementation, Government of India, New Delhi. It was conducted to enumerate all entrepreneurial activities carried out in rural and urban areas within the geographical boundaries of the country. Economic Census : 1998 was operated covering both agricultural (excluding Crop Production and Plantation) and non-agricultural activities. Through this Census, the coverage was mainly dwelt upon basic information on number of distribution of enterprises and employment along with their distribution by location, type of activity, nature of operation and more importantly to provide sampling frame for detailed follow-up surveys covering the sub-sectors of unorganised activities.

The Fourth Economic Census : 1998 report is presented in 2 (two) parts namely Part - I covering a broad analysis of the State results on both agricultural and non-agricultural enterprises. The results are discussed in detail of the characteristics of enterprises both agricultural and non-agricultural in urban and rural separately. Other important characteristics of the enterprises namely seasonality, premises status, use of fuel/power and type of ownership are also covered. In Part - II, detail tables on selected aggregates of the results are presented. In this part, the coverage of the results comprised district-wise distribution of enterprises and employment.

I would like to place on record with gratitude for the computer works of data validation rendered by the Computer Centre, Ministry of Statistics & programme Implementation, Govt. of India, New Delhi under the guidance of Shri I.P. # CHAPTER – I

INTRODUCTION

Economic Census is to bridge the data gap in the Unorganised Sector which play an important role in Capital Formation and generations of employment in the economy of the country. The sector accounts for a larger share in the National/State Income. The Ministry of Planning, Department of Statistics has been making concerted efforts in developing sound and reliable data bases on different areas of the National Statistical System. The data gap in the Unorganised Sector, which continues to exist, has been a problem in framing the policy matters of the country. The idea of an economic census in India was conceived during the pre-independence days but it could not be carried out due to World War Operations. The Central Statistical Organisation of the Department of Statistics revive the necessity and importance of constructing the sample frame for the Unorganised segments in the year 1976 and the first Economic Census was carried out in 1977 with the participation of all States in the country.

1. The organised sector is a well-developed sub-system of the National Statistics in the economy of the country. In organised sector the data on registered Factories, Mines, Railways, Civil Aviation, State Transport undertaking, Major Ports, Banks, registered Educational Institutions, Hospitals, Insurance Companies, etc. are being collected on regular basis but there exist data gaps in unorganised sector. Attempts have been made in the past to collect such data through different rounds of National Sample Survey consisting of information on household enterprises engaged in manufacturing, trade, transport services of unorganised sector, data on self employment in non-agricultural enterprises, etc. Availability of data in the agricultural sector of the economy is comparatively fairly sound with the data made available through agricultural sector, data are being collected regularly through normal administrative channels and surveys such as registered factories of the annual survey of industries. There is a complete lack of reliability data on unorganised segments of economy like unregistered manufacturing, trade, hotels and restaurants, construction and services where information on input – output employment and inventory of fixed assets are available from such sector of non-agricultural economy which resulted to many problems for planning processes by planners, statisticians and policy makers.

2. Economic Census : 1977,1980 & 1990

To fill the data gaps in un-organised sectors particularly non-agricultural economy, the Central Statistical Organisation (CSO), Govt. of India has conducted three Economic Censuses and follow-up survey during the two decades (1977-1995) with the first Census in 1977 and the third: in 1990. The Economic Census was implemented as a Central Sector Scheme organised by the C.S.O. in collaboration with all the State Statistical Directorate/Bureau in the country. The census and survey results have served to provide basic entrepreneurial data for the purpose of planning, development, administration and for improving the estimation of national income and related aggregates.

First Economic Census (1977)

The first Economic Census was carried out in 1977 by the C.S.O. with the participation of all States and Union Territories of the country. In this Census, the scope and coverage were limited to non-agricultural sectors and establishments only having at least one hired worker on a fairly regular basis during the last quarter of 1977. The operation of the census was extended to house listing in the urban areas and villages in rural areas with a population of over 5,000 (as per 1971 population census), and the information collected covers type of activities, number of persons usually working, type of ownership, social group of owners, power/fuel used, out-put, etc. Village level inquiry for the villages of below 5,000 population in the rural areas was also included in the first Economic Census.

Based on the Census frame sample survey of selected establishments in different sectors follow-up studies were taken up in different segments of the non-agricultural, agricultural, un-organised sectors during the years 1978-79 and 1979-80 for collection of detailed information relating to inputs – outputs, investment, employment, emoluments, etc. The un-organised manufacturing sector was covered during the 1978-79 where as the sectors of trade, transport, hotel & restaurant, storage and ware-housing and surveys were covered during 1979-80. The small establishments employees less than 6 (six) persons on a fairly regular basis either own-account or self employed enterprises were surveyed by the National Sample Survey Organisation (NSSO), as part of the 33rd and 34th round while the larger establishments were surveyed by the special staff appointed under the scheme.

Second Economic Census (1980)

The Second Economic Census , 1980 was conducted along with the house-listing operation of 1981 operation census with sectoral coverage larger than that of the first Economic Census. This census covered all enterprises both establishments and own-account in the unorganised non-agricultural and agricultural sectors excluding those engaged in crop production and plantation. The own-account enterprises were covered for the first time on a census based. Certain basic information about these enterprises such as their number, nature (perennial or seasonal), category of industries, total employment hired workers, type of all ownership, etc. were collected in the Second Economic Census. The need for essential minimum items, simplicity and experience gained in the first Economic Census had also been taken into account in designing the collection of various items of information.

As done in the first Economic Census 1977, three followed-up surveys were designed and carried out by the NSSO, one in 1983-84 on hotels & restaurants, transport, storage and ware-housing and surveys. Another in 1984-85 on unorganised manufacturing and the third one in 1985-86 on wholesale and retailed trade.

To continue the follow-up survey programme, the frame of 1980 Economic Census was up-dated during 1987-88, on the basis of the up-dated frame, a survey on hotels & restaurants and transport was conducted in 1988-89. Subsequent surveys were conducted, the second survey on unorganised manufacturing during 1989-90, third survey on wholesale and retailed trade in 1990-91 and the fourth on surveys sectors was conducted during 1991-92.

Third Economic Census (1990)

In the third Economic Census 1990 a complete enumeration of entrepreneurial activities in the unorganised non-agricultural sectors and agricultural sectors (excluding those engaged in crop production and plantation), in rural and urban areas of the country and the State was carried out. The information collected includes location of the enterprises description of activity, nature of operation, type of ownership, social group of owner, power/fuel used for the activity, employment and number of hired persons usually working. The third Economic Census organised by the C.S.O. was carried out in collaboration with all the States Directorate of Economics & Statistics and the Census synchronised with the house listing operation of the population census, 1991 for operational conveniences and cost effectiveness.

Though the over all responsibility for organising the census work and tabulation of data was vested with the Meghalaya Directorate, Economics & Statistics, but technical and financial support was provided by C.S.O., Govt. of India. In the house listing operation after numbering the building and houses, information on the purpose for which the census house is used and whether the household is engaged in any entrepreneurial activity including outside the sector and without premises was collected by the enumerator. When an enterprise was identified in the house list schedule, items of information such as description of enterprise, classification of enterprise, as to whether agricultural, non-agricultural, nature of operations, type of ownership, etc. were recorded in the Enterprise Lists.

Need for repeat Census

Obtaining the comprehensive set of data through the Economic Census is the most important aspect for the preparation of sampling frame for detailed sample survey on different sub-sectors of the economy in the country. Impact of business cycle and development in other countries which influence the domestic economy, particularly when combined with the policy of liberalisation and opening up of the economy to multi-nationals resulted to many sectoral changes in the economy. To monitor and assess the impact of the services sector in the Indian economy, an Economic Census independent of population census was planned in 1996 with an objective that the basic data would be made available through the census will be utilised to conduct detailed sample survey in sectors of current importance. This is the fourth Economic Census 1998, covering enterprises both in agricultural and non-agricultural sectors including own-account enterprises and establishments (enterprises having at least one hired worker).

3. Fourth Economic Census : 1998

The fourth Economic Census, 1998 is an independent one organised by the C.S.O. in collaboration with the Economics & Statistics Directorates/Bureaus as well as the Union Territories. The previous Economic Census, 1980 & 1990 were dovetailed with population Census along with their house listing operations to effect economy in expenditure. But it has been experienced that such Economic Census could not yield the expected result, as there were undercount of establishments and employment. In the fourth Economic Census, complete house-to-house inquiry for canvassing the enterprise lists was carried out in the urban and rural areas irrespective of the population structure.

In the urban areas, the urban frame Blocks of the National Sample Survey Organisation are used to be as a primary geographical entity where complete house-to-house inquiry for canvassing the enterprise lists were carried out. In the rural areas, complete house-to-house inquiry was taken up for canvassing enterprise lists in which census village is taken at the primary unit.

Scope And Coverage

The Fourth Economic Census covered the whole of the Indian Union excepting some villages of Andaman & Nicobar island and some Districts/Villages of Jammu & Kashmir which remain inaccessible due to various reasons. The census sponsored by the Central Statistical Organisation, Govt. of India, under central sector scheme was implemented through the State Directorate of Economics & Statistics, in which the State of Meghalaya also participated. All enterprises engaged in any activity were covered with an objective to collect information on all enterprises by their types of activities and most of all to provide the sampling frame for follow-up surveys of unorganised activities, both non-agricultural sector and agricultural sector excluding those engaged in crop production and plantation. Agricultural activities include raising live stock production, agricultural services, hunting, trapping and games propagation, forestry and logging and fishing. Non-agricultural activities inter-alia mining and quarrying, manufacturing, electricity, gas and water, construction, hotels & restaurants, transport and services, the excluded agriculture enterprise from the purview of the census are growing of cereals crops, pulses, raw cotton, raw jute and other kinds of fibres, oil seeds, sugarcane, vegetables, horticulture, tea, coffee, rubber, tobacco, arecanut, coconut, cashewnut, etc.

Need for repeat Census

Economic Census is the only source for preparation of a complete frame for delinking inquiries intended to cover information on nature of activity, employment, emolument, expenditure, receipts, inventory of fix assets, etc. of the enterprises to be covered on a sample basis. In view of the rapid changes in the structure of un-organised segments of non-agricultural sector due to high mobility and mortality of the small unit and also in view of the births of new units, it is very necessary to update the frame from time to time. The frame based on previous Economic Census including the update frame which has become no longer useful on a new frame is considered necessary for further follow-up survey so as to assess the change in the structure of establishments, growth in employment, etc. in unorganised sector over a period of certain years. Hence, the Fourth Economic Census sponsored by the C.S.O. was carried out in collaboration with all the State Directorates of Economics and Statistics.

Need for delinking from population census

Fourth Economic Census 1998 with a series of Economic Censuses has been carried out keeping in view of filling up the data gaps in the un-organised sectors of the economy. The Fourth Economic Census 1998 was planned to be an independent one as that of the First Economic Census so as to delink it from population Census. With the delinking from population census, the infrastructure for field works was built by the active participation of the State Directorates of Economics & Statistics who have vast experience in conducting the field works particularly of their intimate knowledge about geographical aspect of the State, hence there is a need that the Economic Census should be made independent of population census.

Scrutiny of Data and Tabulation

Scrutiny works and coding of data enterprises collected as per Enterprise list were done at the District Level under the supervision of the District Statistical Officers concerned. For cross-checking of the scrutiny programme and coding, a Second Level Stage was arranged at the Directorate headquarter by the trained staff under the general supervision of the Director and the concerned Officers.

After completion of the 2-tier programme for scrutiny and coding of the data-Enterprise list, the scrutinised data were transferred back to the Districts for data entry at the District Units of M C which were kept ready for computerisation.

Concept and Definitions

Unit :

A Unit located in a house is an entity engaged in some gainful economic activity involving production and/or distribution of goods and/or services. The unit engaged in such economic activity may be a workshop, manufacturing plant, a shop, an office, a school, a firm, hospitals, place of worship, etc.

Building :

A building is generally a single structure available on the ground. Usually a structure will have four walls of a room. But in some areas, the very nature of construction of houses is such that there may not be any wall. Sometimes a series of different buildings may be found along the street which are separated from one another by common wall though it look like a continuous structure. But in such cases though the whole structure with all the joining units apparently appears to be one building, each portion is treated as a separate building.

Census House :

In Census, a house is a building or part of a building having a separate main entrance from the road or common courtyard or staircase used or recognised as a separate unit. It may be occupied or vacant. It may be used for residential or non-residential purpose of for both. In case of hostels, hotels, etc. even if the door of each room in which an inmate lives, opens to a common verandah, passage, staircase or a common room as it happens almost invariably, the hostels/hotels building are treated as one Census House.

Household :

A household is a group of persons who usually live together and would take their meals from a common kitchen unless the exigencies of works prevented any of them from doing so. There may be a household of persons related by blood or a household of unrelated persons or having a mixed of both such as boarding house, mess, hostels, jails, etc.

these are known as 'institutional household'. If a group of persons who are not related to each other live in a Census House but does not have their meals from a common kitchen, they do not constitute 'an institutional household'.

Premises :

Premises are part of the house occupied by a unit/household. If the activity of the enterprise carried out by a unit/household extends beyond the boundaries of a single house to a group of continuous houses and in rare cases, a group of houses in close proximity, the entire group of houses is regarded as a single premise.

Enterprises :

An enterprise is an undertaking engaged in production and/or distribution of goods and/or services not for the sole purpose of own consumption. The workers in an enterprise may consist of members of the household or hired workers or both. The activity of the enterprise may be carried out at one or more than one distinct location. The activity of the enterprise may also be carried out only over a part of the year on a fairly regular basis, i.e. it is in co-operation for the majority part of the season/year. An enterprise may be owned or operated by a single household or by several households jointly (on a partnership basis) or by an institutional body or by Government.

Enterprises with premises :

Enterprises that carry on their activities in the open area or outside the census building/house, such as roadside vendor, hawkers, etc. are generally treated as enterprise without premises.

Agricultural Enterprise :

An Agricultural Enterprise is defined as one engaged in livestock production, agricultural services, hunting, trapping and game propagation, forestry, logging, fishing, etc. Enterprises engaged in activities pertaining to crop production and plantation are not covered by this census.

Non-Agricultural Enterprises :

All enterprises engaged in other activities are treated as non-agricultural enterprises.

Establishment :

An establishment is an enterprise having at least one hired worker on a fairly regular basis.

Type of ownership :

The type of ownership of the enterprise classified as private co-operative and public are defined as below :-

- (a) Private Enterprise – An enterprise is termed as private if it is being owned or operated by a single or by a group of private persons.
- (b) Co-operative Enterprises – All enterprises registered under the Co-operative Society Act are termed as Co-operative Enterprises.
- (c) Public Enterprises – Owned by Central Government, State Government, Public Sector undertakings are termed as public enterprises.

Enterprises with power/fuel :-

Power/fuel used in carrying out the entrepreneurial activity, without which an economic activity of an enterprise cannot be carried out, are considered as power/fuel used by the enterprise. The different source of power/fuel, electricity, coal, soft coke, petrol, diesel, gas, fire-wood, bio-gas, animal power and others.

Persons usually working :-

Those represent the number of persons on an average usually working in an enterprise on a working day during the last year of the activity. It relates to the position in the last year for perennial and last working season for the seasonal enterprise. It includes all categories of workers including the members of the household paid or unpaid workers engaged in the activity.

Hired persons usually working :-

The hired person usually working means the daily average number of hired employees who are normally working in the enterprise on regular basis.

Industrial classification of Enterprises :-

Enterprises fall under different sectors of the economy namely (i) Agriculture (excluding crop production and plantation), (ii) Mining and quarrying (iii) Manufacture (iv) Electricity, gas and water supply – sanitation (v) Construction (vi) Wholesale & retail sale, Hotels and Restaurants (vii) Transport and storage & communication Services (viii) Finance, Insurance, Real estate and (ix) Business Services and Community, Social & Personal services.

In order to classify the activity of Enterprises, detailed instruction were given for recording full description of the activities/processing carried out by the Enterprise which would provide a basis for their appropriate classification according to the latest National Industrial Classification(NIC), 1987.

Organisations

The overall responsibility in the implementation of the Fourth Economic Census 1998 is a dual combination of both the Central Statistical Organisation, Govt. of India, and the States' Directorate of Economics & Statistics. The Economic Census programme is organised throughout the country and a good deal of speed work were carried out by the Directorate of Economics & Statistics, Meghalaya in the conduct of field work programmes of the Census. Field works of the Economic Census 1998 in the State of Meghalaya both rural and urban has been conducted during April-May 1998 and the whole field process was completed on 31st May, 1998. All technical guidance including the financial support was provided by the Central Statistical Organisation, Govt. of India, whereas the responsibility of conducting the Census was vested with the Directorate of Economics & Statistics, Meghalaya.

The State Level Steering Committee – Fourth Economic Census was constituted under the chairmanship of the Chief Secretary of Meghalaya with the Principal Secretary, Planning Department as Census Commissioner and the Director of Economics & Statistics as Additional Census Commissioner & Member Secretary, (Notification Order No. PLA.45/96/51., Dated Shillong, the 16th November, 1996) for monitoring and to co-ordinate the census works in the State. Similarly a District Level Co-ordination Committee was also constituted with the Deputy Commissioner as Deputy Census Commissioner and the District Statistical Officer as its Member-Secretary-cum-Assistant Census Commissioner (Notification Order No. PLA.45/96/52-58., Dated Shillong, the 16th November, 1996).

Field Works Programme

The independent Economic Census, 1998 was conducted in the State with the co-operation of various Departments particularly Education, Community & Rural Development, Agriculture and Animal Husbandry & Veterinary, in which the services of their officials were drawn. Elementary School teachers of the Education Department and Village Level Workers (Gram Sevak of the Community & Rural Department) were entrusted with the field works assignments as Enumerators in the rural areas who were responsible for a complete coverage as well as quality of data collection of the Economic Census programme. In the urban areas, educated un-employed youth along with the elementary school teachers were assigned duties as Enumerators. Extension Officers of the Block Development Officers of the Departments of Agriculture, Animal Husbandry & Veterinary and teachers of Higher Secondary School were entrusted with the duties as Supervisors along with the senior officials of the State Directorate of Economics & Statistics. Block Development Officers acted as responsible Charge Officers in the rural areas and the Officers of the State Directorate in the urban areas who provided guidance to the Supervisors, Enumerators and for checking authenticity and correctness of data collection in their area jurisdictions.

An intensive and extensive training was organised throughout the State for ensuring good quality of data collection in canvassing the schedules of house listing as well as enterprise lists of the Economic Census programme. In some areas, trainings were organised for two times for the concepts and definitions as desired by the identified Enumerators and Supervisors.

For smooth implementation of the Fourth Economic Census, a Cell was formed at the Directorate headquarter Meghalaya and a senior-most Deputy Director headed the Cell with one Research Officer, three Inspector of Statistics, three Primary Investigators, a Registrar and an Accountant to assist. The Cell underlook all the duties and functions of the Census works including translation of Schedules and Instruction Booklets from English to two local languages namely Khasi and Garo, Second State/Level scrutiny of filled-in scrutinised schedules at the District Level, over-all co-ordination, quick manual tabulation tables as well as final tables.

The field operation was carried out in the State during April – May, 1998 where the official count of all entrepreneurial unit located in the geographical boundary of the State, involved in any economic activities of both Agricultural (excluding Crop Production and Plantation) and Non-Agricultural Sector of the economic engaged in the production and distribution of goods or services not for the sole purpose of own consumption were covered. Information were collected from household about entrepreneurial activities undertaken by the members of the household with or without premises in both Agricultural and Non-Agricultural activities. Enterprises were identified from amongst those having no hired worker that is own-account enterprise and those having at least one hired worker that is Establishment were recorded in the enterprise lists. House lists schedules is filled up by the Enumerators by visiting each house/structure for house listing and due care were taken up while collecting information on the enterprises with and without premises. Enumerators on identifying the enterprise with fixed premises within the house/structure or without fixed premises but having fixed location and operating outside the market/shop or attached to some shops/houses at the location itself, necessary entries were made in the enterprise lists.

Computer Data Processing

With the help of NIC, the software is developed for the data entry of the fourth Economic Census data according to the formats of the House List (HL) and the Enterprise List (EL) collected census village-wise and UFS block-wise. The computerisation process consists of certain phases in which the first phase were initially elaborated in the documentation. The first phase consists of inputting the data from the HL & EL schedules into the Computer in the exact format as they occur.

The software was designed in a manner that data pertaining to each UFS Block (in urban areas) and each census village (in rural areas) were entered in separate databases (or files) so as to simplify and stream-line the data validation programme. Each UFS Block or Census village was having one HL database and one EL database file.

On completion of data entry of urban and rural EL Schedules, hard copy outputs of the data were subjected for District-wise errors checking and the corrections made were incorporated in the respective databases. The verification of data of Enterprise Lists was processed and the collected databases of all the Districts were compiled to generate the databases (rural & urban), for each of the seven Districts of the State of Meghalaya.

In the next phase, the verified data entered on floppies was subjected to validation for the errors lists District-wise. In the absence of adequate computer facilities in the State Directorate, all validation for missing/duplicate lists, scrutiny error lists District-wise and online correction for the final data files as well as generation of tables were done and completed with the help of the Computer Centre, Department of Statistics, Govt. of India, New Delhi. With all the assistance extended by the Computer Center at New Delhi, the validated data were processed and the necessary tables generated were handed over to the State Directorate. The final phase was the necessary exercise on documents on floppies which include action on final auto-corrected data of the State, action on the main and special tables, summary statements District-wise both urban and rural and the software for unzipping the data/tables. The activities were performed as per tabulation plan of the Central Statistical Organisation.

Provisional Result

Provisional results based on quick manual tabulation of the data collected through the Fourth Economic Census comprised of certain items of the Enterprise Lists. The quick manual tabulation is carried out in two stages, first at the District level and the second stage, at the State Level. The Enterprise Lists Abstract for rural, that is, at the Block levels are processed manually and ultimately the District results are generated. Likewise, Enterprise

Lists Abstract for urban areas are processed in the same manner in which results are generated for both rural and urban District-wise. On the basis of the District results, State results are prepared accordingly.

The important features of the provisional results indicate the following findings :-

- (a) The total number of Enterprises in the State increased by 14.45 percent during the period of Third Economic Census 1990 and the Fourth one in 1998. The total number of Enterprises was 49,971 in 1990.
- (b) Agricultural & Non-Agricultural Enterprises : The result shows that the Agricultural Enterprises rose by 58.62 percent (1990-1998) whereas Non-Agricultural Enterprises recorded an increase of 12.36 percent. The concentration of non-agricultural enterprises is in rural areas which was 62.71 percent whereas in urban areas it was 37.29 percent.

Own Account Enterprises in the State also registered a growth of 16.55 percent and that of Perennial Enterprises by 7.97 percent.

- (c) Employment : The provisional result on number of persons usually working in all enterprises shows a rise of only 6.14 percent for the period 1990-1998. Compared to the growth of total workers of 61.4 percent, the number of hired workers increased by 2.01 percent.

The State Directorate of Economics & Statistics did not publish the quick manual tabulation results in a form of publication though the detail provisional results were released officially to the Central Statistical Organisation and the State Government.

s of Summary t t – Need Follow-Up Surveys

With the release of results of quick manual tabulation, the summary statements provide information on number of enterprises for each Block/Village of non-agricultural enterprises by type like own-account enterprises and establishments by major sectors ( two digits levcl ) and also on private and co-operative enterprises by major activity groups, rural and urban separately as well as public enterprises by major activity groups. The work of preparation of summary statements was carried out through computer data processing after scrutiny and coding exercised by the State Directorate. The result of summary statements will be used as a frame for Follow-up Surveys of the 4th Economic Census, 1998.

The result of the 4th Economic Census such as number of agricultural and non-agricultural enterprises and their activities, directory and non-directory establishments, own-account enterprises (village-wise and enumeration block-wise provide) a complete frame for the detailed enquiries intended to cover the information on nature of activity, employment, expenditure receipt, inventory of fixed assets, etc. The frame prepared on the basis of the 4th Economic Census, 1998 is to provide data information for the Follow-Up Surveys.

Format of the Report :

- 2.9.7 It is observed in table 2.19 that the growth rate of Own Account Enterprises in rural areas under non-perennial indicated a negative (-4.94 percent) growth during the period 1980-1990 whereas during 1990-1998, it had shown a positive growth of 22.02 percent. The comparative study between the Third Economic Census and the Fourth Economic Census in the rural sector revealed a lower growth rate of Own Account Enterprises in both 'without premises' 12.46 percent and 'with power/fuel' 8.23 percent, as compared to the last decade growth rate that is, during the Second and the Third Economic Censuses (1980-1990) with 50.23 percent and 675.27 percent respectively. Similar situation was also indicated in the growth rate of Establishments in rural during Economic Census 1990 and Economic Census 1998 under the location 'without premises' with a negative growth rate of (-)19.08 percent.
- 2.9.8 It is also observed that in urban areas the growth of OAE's in respect of 'Non-Perennial' 'without premises' and 'with power/fuel' enterprises showed an upward trend during the Second and Third as well as between Third and Fourth Economic Censuses. But the urban establishments revealed a downward trend in case of 'Non-Perennial' enterprises during Second and Third Censuses and 'without premises' enterprises between Third and Fourth Economic Censuses.
- 2.9.9 Thus looking at the Table 2.19, in respect of 'Non-Perennial enterprises', the growth rate of rural Own Account enterprises and urban establishments revealed negative results during the Second and Third Economic Censuses. Similarly, the establishments operating without premises showed a declining trend in both rural and urban areas between the Third and Fourth Economic Censuses.
